Discussion Questions

I. Supposing X17 is found/resolved in the next 2–3 years, what is next?
- Are there other light targets to pursue
- Do we make more X17?
  - Small scale experiments might be able to increase statistics and refine coupling

II. Spectroscopy of hard to produce bound states (true muonium, tauonium) could lead to better understanding of standard model